

Many passions

I have the distinct pleasure/honor of working with the Sopranistin Anita Ammersfeld. As her voice coach, I observe her driving desire for artistic freedom and perfection. Almost weekly, I see the Intendantin, burdened with responsibility and deadlines, enter my studio, and unbelievably an hour later, I watch an artist leave, open and effusing a depth of creative energy the „alles schaffen kann“!

Anita is much more critical and demanding of herself than I could ever be, but the chemistry of our „gemeinsame Arbeit“, I feel, generates a musical level that every professional voice coach hopes to experience, even a couple of times each week.

We all know what a unique person Anita is: her many passions, depth of knowledge in so many diverse fields, and love of artistic excellence. I am allowed to enjoy an intense work with, what I consider, a basic core of this special spirit: the musician/singer, Anita Ammersfeld.

My best wishes and ever-growing affection on this special day, Nicki...
